About Malegaon City

Malegaon is at the confluence of the Girna and Mausam rivers, at elevation of 438 meters. It is at around 280 km northeast of state capital Mumbai. It has good connectivity with nearby cities like Nashik, Manmad, Mumbai, and Dhule.

Malegaon is major hub for cloth weaving using early 20th century power looms. The era of power looms in Malegaon emerged after 1935. Malegaon was a traditional handloom-weaving centre in Maharashtra. Most of the preparatory work before weaving like starching the yarn, transferring it over the tubes, preparing tanabana was done by the women. Even after power looms were introduced, women continued to help the men in the weaving procedure. Recent times, the power loom industry is going through difficult phase due to factors like fluctuating government policies, frequent electricity outage, lack of political will, and middleman at every stage, therefore a Textile cluster namely "Dr. Baliram Hiray Hi Tech Textile Cluster" is established by Hon Prasad Hiray. The city is also well developed by Dr Baliramji Hiray (Ex-Education Minister) by establishing advance education system in the field of Pharmacy, Management & Engineering.

Malegaon's notoriously wacky film spoof industry has introduced many classic Hollywood and Bollywood characters to the satellite town of Malegaon by giving them its quintessential dialogue, looks, circumstances, and food.
